Property solutions you can rely on

Since inception, Cotton has been instrumental in the restoration of schools, colleges and universities across the country following property damage. From a small, private montessori to a multi-institutional system of higher learning, Cotton understands the value placed on the education facility by the community.

Whether an isolated event or catastrophic disaster – be it fire, flood, extreme weather, environmental mishap, terrorism or vandalism – Cotton is equipped with the professional knowledge, experience and resources to swiftly return the campus to pre-loss condition.

Downtime may call for altered school calendars, conflicts with sporting events and extracurricular activities, student relocation, and almost inevitably, lost revenue for the campus and onsite vendors or other operating entities within. During this critical time, education officials rely on Cotton's innovative solutions and service model to effectively minimize these issues and put students and faculty back in the classrooms.
